

Dear Mori:

Three cheers for your masterly defense of Park West Gallery's integrity and its intensive efforts to ensure the authenticity of art works offered.

Your assertions in the May 2009 The ARTIST'S magazine that the NY Times piece was misleading, unwarranted and probably actionable would not surprise Times readers. Once a reliable international news source, the Times has compromised those standards with its evident bias in its political reports and its failure to assess prior to publication its editorials and political columns.

For those of us with a news background (active in LOOK MAGAZINE's legal dept.) it is disheartening to see a once great publication descend to this level of fabrication.

Go after them. Get it the best.

Tina
